Potters Plan Wage Parley

To Draft Proposals In Pittsburgh July 17

Using new union contract negotiating machinery for the first time, a 60-member wage policy committee of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will meet July 17 at Pittsburgh to draft proposals that will be used in bargaining for new working agreements with employers in both the general ware and china-ware branches of the ceramic industry.

Official notices of the meeting have been mailed local unions over the signatures of E. L. Wheatley and Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer.

The new procedure was authorized by action of the IBOP's annual convention in July 1956 in Los Angeles. For many years in the past, wage demands and requests for changes in working conditions were worked out at the international conventions, based on resolutions submitted by local unions.

Local unions already have started election of conferees to represent them at the wage policy committee's meeting.

The IBOP's present two-year contract with the U.S. Pottery Association runs to Oct. 1. The union sought unsuccessfully to force a reopening of the wage contract last November. It planned to seek a pay increase and clarifications of several sections of the contract.

Following traditional procedure, the IBOP will present its demands to the USPA, which then will issue counter-propositions. Union and management negotiators then will meet at a mutually agreeable site to thresh out a new contract.

The wage policy committee's meeting will come close on the heels of the IBOP's 63rd annual convention, which is scheduled to open July 1 at New Orleans.

Installation Marks Jaycee Dinner-Dance

Junior Chamber of Commerce officials were installed by James Copham of McDonald, Ohio Jaycee international relations director, after Salem Junior Chamber officers were installed Thursday night at Valley Golf Club last evening.

Seventy-five Jaycees and their guests attended the affair. George Equizi, outgoing president, was toastmaster.

Officers installed were Jack Rance, president; Russell Wagner, first vice president; George Ehrhart, second vice president; Richard Calvin, treasurer; Art Herron, Jr., secretary; Paul Warvel, Walter Taylor, Fred Koenreigh, Ross Joseph, Daniel Smith, directors; and Equizi, state director.

Other retiring officers were Russell Wagner, second vice president; William Lewis, treasurer; and Koenreigh, secretary; and Dale Culbertson, Morris Hollinger, Norman Eckfeld, Matt Melitschka, and Edward Maruca, directors.

Brief remarks concerning the Jaycee movement were presented by John Asperger of Youngstown, newly elected District Five vice president.

Equizi presented certificates of merit to committee chairmen who had worked this year on club projects. The membership and board gave Equizi a gift of traveling luggage.

Other awards presented included the Junior Chamber of Commerce International Senatorship Award to Ed Maruca, and a life membership award for his 20-years of JA service to Jaycees to Melitschka. Equizi made the presentation.

Arranging the affair were Rance, Wagner, Melitschka, Ehrhart, and Maruca.

The program and organization for the year will be set up Thursday night at 7 at a meeting of the outgoing and incoming directors which will be held in the old Jaycee clubrooms in the Bowman building.

Of 83.3 per cent—far in excess of the necessary two-thirds. It compared with a majority of 87.5 per cent given quotas in a similar referendum a year ago.

The department had announced that if quotas were approved, it would support the 1958 crop at an average of $1.78 a bushel, but would drop this to about $1.19 if quotas were rejected.

With granaries carrying a full year's supply from previous crops, growers apparently thought market prices would drop to the lower support level if controls were abandoned.

In approving controls for the fifth consecutive year, farmers will limit sales to the amount grown on a 55 million acre allotment—the same that has been in effect on the past four crops.

Other crops being grown under quotas this year—and likely to be subjected to them again next year—are cotton, rice, peanuts and major types of tobacco. Surpluses exist in all of them.

Six Children In Family Die As Tornado Strikes

9 Killed, 85 Hurt As Funnel Cuts Swath In N. Dakota City

FARGO, N. D. (AP)—A giant tornado, striking from a lethal cloud tower more than 10 miles high, smashed through 100 blocks of a Fargo residential area Thursday night, bringing death to nine persons—six of them the children of one family.

At least 85 more were injured, some critically.

The massive, black funnel lashed a swath of devastation 20 blocks long and five wide.

6 In Family Killed The dead included all six children of the Gerald Munson family. They ranged in age from one to 12. The mother was hospitalized for shock.

The ninth victim died early this morning. She was Lois Ann, 2, second youngest Munson daughter.

Walter Olson, Fargo police chief said the death toll might go higher as volunteers probed the wreckage of more than 200 homes.

In Minneapolis, 245 miles southeast of here, the Weather Bureau said the cloud formation that spawned the awesome twister showed on radar screens as a mass 60,000 feet high and with a diameter of 50 miles.

Declared Disaster Area North Dakota Gov. John Davis declared the stricken territory a disaster area.

Fargo, with 40,000 residents, is the largest city in North Dakota. It is located in the flat Red River Valley, noted for its rich farm crops.

The twister wrecked immense Stanley High School and the nearby American Lutheran Church.

Richard Rasmussen, Associated Press staffer who lives near where the twister struck, said he and neighbors watched the black cloud forming an estimated 10 miles west of Fargo.

"It looked like an elongated triangle lying on its side," Rasmussen said. "As it came closer, we could see the funnel begin to form. From a mile away it looked

Leetonia 3-Mill Levy Vote Looms On Nov. 5

LEETONIA — Village Council meeting Wednesday night, tentatively agreed on a three-mill operating levy to be placed before the voters Nov. 5.

Much of the meeting time was taken with a discussion of the amount of millage to be asked for by Council, and a definite amount will be set at the July 1 session.

The levy for lighting costs and general operating expenses is sorely needed, according to Council, because the village is running at a deficit and the extra revenue from the levy is necessary to continue operations.

A proposed long-range program of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to eliminate the rural eight-party line to a four-party or individual-line service was discussed before Council by Arthur C. Williams of Akron, phone company representative.

Telephone patrons within the Leetonia - Washingtonville corporation line who are now paying mileage will receive a decrease in rate after the mileage charge is dropped. The change will go into effect Aug. 6 if the proposal is approved by the Public Utilities Commission, Williams informed Council.

A chain has been placed at the entrance of the village dump, with citizens of Leetonia and Salem Township and E. Columbia St. residents permitted to use the dump between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. The dump will be closed on Sunday, it was reported by Richard Kleinknecht, street commissioner.

Kleinknecht also reported to council that holes on Spruce St. have been filled and general repair work has been done on other village streets.

Mayor Paul Sevenich presided during the meeting. Present were Council members Miss Jessie Nicolette, Mrs. Francis Brennan, Paul Casey, Joe Weikart, Vic Hedl, and Frank Citino, Village Clerk Mike Burick and Village Solicitor Edward Greenamyre and Kleinknecht.

Procedure In Electing New Judges Outlined

The procedure Columbiana County will follow in naming three county judges at the Nov. 5 election to replace the abandoned justice of the peace system was outlined in a summarization of the new law received today by the election board.

The law enacted by the state legislature authorizes Common Pleas Judges Joel H. Sharp and Raymond S. Buzzard to lay down the boundaries in which the three judges will have jurisdiction outside the area served by the East Liverpool Municipal Court.

The East Liverpool court includes the city and Liverpool Township.

The interpretation sent by State Secretary Ted W. Brown provides the election board will be able to accept filings as soon as the court districts are determined, permitting the board to determine candidates' filing fees and signature requirements for their petitions.

The three judges elected in November will serve one-year terms, according to the law. Any qualified elector who has a legal residence in one of the judicial districts is eligible to run.

But beginning with the four-year term starting Jan. 1, 1963, only attorneys with at least a year's practice will be eligible, with the provision that the first judges may run to succeed themselves, regardless.

Beginning with the general election in 1958, the judges will be elected for four-year terms.

The law fixes the judges' pay at $1,500 a year, plus three cents per capita of the population of the district. That means the judges probably will draw a total of about $2,200 yearly, as the three districts of the county are expected to include populations of some 24,000 each.

The county outside the municipal court district has a population of about 71,000 which will be divided into three districts.

It has been reported unofficially the headquarters of the three courts will be located at Salem, Rogers and Gavers.

In addition to the basic salaries of the judges, the law provides county commissioners have the option of granting a "fixed annual amount not to exceed $1,000" to each of the jurists. But the next step in the procedure is designation of the areas of the courts jurisdiction because population is the basis of the candidates' filing fees and signature requirements.

The law says the candidates' petitions for a ballot place must have signatures equal to one per cent of the vote cast for governor at the last general election. The filing fee is based on one-half of

Court Studies Girard Case

8 Justices Attend Closed Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court studies today the knotty legal question of whether GI William S. Girard should be tried by a Japanese civil court on a manslaughter charge.

Eight of the court's nine justices planned to be on hand for a closed conference on a Justice Department plea for a quick reversal of a decision that Girard may be tried only by a U.S. military court. The ninth justice, William O. Douglas, left Washington before the lower court decision was handed down last Tuesday.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy ruled that Girard, a specialist third class from Ottawa, Ill., must not be tried by a Japanese court in the firing range death of a Japanese woman. McGarraghy held that Girard was on duty at the time of the shooting and that the soldier's constitutional rights would be violated if he were handed over to Japan for trial.

The justices probably will have to consider also a contention by lawyers for Girard that the soldier should be granted a writ of habeas corpus so he may be returned to the United States. They announced in New York Thursday they expected to file a "cross appeal" today. They said McGarraghy's decision "did not go far enough."

Court observers doubt announcements of any conclusions reached by the eight justices will be made before next Monday's regular session of court.

The court had planned to quit for the summer after next Monday. If the justices vote in favor of hearing arguments by government attorneys, the session will be extended.

Plans To Match Arms Buildup Of Communists

UN Will Observe Other Provisions Of 1953 Armistice

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The U.N. Command today voided the Korean armistice ban on new weapons to match the Communist buildup in North Korea.

Murray Snyder, U.S. assistant secretary of defense, said in Washington that the new arms would include jet aircraft which can carry atomic arms, but "at this time no atomic weapons are being given to ground forces." He refused to say whether atomic ammunition would be stored at Korean bases for use against an attack.

Will Observe 'Cease Fire' The U.N. side declared it would continue to observe "fully" the case-fire provision and all other points in the 1953 armistice agreement.

The Communist command promptly charged the U.N. with "attempting to make South Korea an atomic base and prepare for a new war."

North Korean Maj. Gen. Chung Kook Poole declared impassively: "We are vehemently opposed to equipping U.N. forces with new types of weapons, wrecking the armistice agreement and perpetuating the U.N. occupation of South Korea."

U.S. Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzenberg, senior member of the U.N. Command, notified the North Korean and Chinese Communists of the U.N. decision at a meeting in the truce hut in the demilitarized zone. Litzenberg said the Red reply was "milder than I expected."

"I did not interpret it as a Red threat to resume the fighting that ended with the July 27, 1953, truce," he said.

Reserves Right To Reply Chung, spokesman for the 40 North Korean and Chinese Communists attending the meeting of the Korean Joint Armistice Commission, reserved the right to reply later to the U.N. charges of truce violations. He asserted the U.N. Command was airing the charges to "cover up" Allied violations.

Litzenberg said he expected the Communists to ask for another meeting "within a few days" to reply more fully to the U.N. statement.

Litzenberg told reporters "modern and effective weapons" will be flown into Korea soon, but said he knew of no final decision on types, quantity or a timetable for bringing them in.

The U.N. Command's statement again accused the Communists of "flagrant, repeated and willful violations" of the armistice agreement and said the U.N. action was being taken because of the Reds' "continued defiance."

War Historians Also Decorate Graves

S.O.f.U.V.Camp Doesn't Forget Soldier Dead

Officers of Phillip Triem Camp, sons of Union Veterans are real historians when it comes to knowing the resting places of soldier dead of yesteryear.

In addition to keeping this factual data up to date, the Sons of Union Veterans erect headstones on any previously unknown service graves when it is brought to their attention. They obtained the markers from the government.

A study of the S. of U.V. record books shows that four Revolutionary War soldiers and three Indian war veterans are interred here and the nearby area.

Rev. Eli Lindersmith, Dunganon Cemetery at Dunganon.

John F. Donnelly, Springhill Cemetery in Yellow Creek Township.

Other records of the S. of U.V. reveal that 10 graves of unknown soldiers exist in Columbiana County, including two at Fairfield Township Cemetery, one at Dunganon, one at Grove Hill, one at Clarkson, one at Mt. Calvary in Leetonia, one at Calcutta United Presbyterian Church, two at Long Run, and one at Riverview.

FOUR HUNDRED SOLDIERS were interred in the county cemeteries up until World War I; and the total now is 550, according to Sons of Union Veteran record books.

Carl Burcaw who knows practically everything statistics-wise concerning area veterans, compiled the figures concerning the soldiers' graves.

Burcaw has served Phillip Triem Camp of the S. of U.V. as commander ten times since he joined capacities of the camp with the exception of treasurer. Now he is the vice commander of S. of U.V. District One.

ANOTHER SUV MEMBER whose memory dates way back is J. E. Bentley who was at one time commander of the local camp as well as treasurer and later secretary - treasurer for many years.

First organized in 1883 in memory of Phillip Triem, the Salem camp has as a charter member Triem's son, Charles. In 1901 the camp was reorganized with the late P. F. Yingling as commander.

The camp hit a peak in enrollment in 1916 when over 125 persons were actively working in Union Veterans activities. About that time members organized a reserve company, executed drills and camped out several times each year. During their campouts they often went to the Lisbon Fairgrounds Camp and in 1913 camped in the east end of the Brooks estate on the old Bentley property.

THE S. OF U.V. WAS ORGANIZED primarily to take over the activities of the Grand Army of the Republic, comprised of veterans who fought on the Union side in the Civil War, whose members gradually began to die out. So the sons of GAR members took over and kept the organization going, maintaining the GAR policy of decorating soldiers' graves and other allied activities.

The Grand Army of the Republic was organized here in 1866, becoming known as Trescott Post 10, and a few years later received its charter.

The last surviving GAR veteran was Charles Bonsall, who succumbed Feb. 25, 1937.

Lease claims negligence on the part of Dennis Flugan, the driver, resulted in the traffic accident which occurred Jan. 18 on County Road 411 near Lome of the deceased.

Man Loses Arm, Leg Trying To Hop Train

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Oscar D. Shortridge, 32, Portsmouth, was reported in critical condition at Mercy Hospital here after losing an arm and a leg Thursday when he fell beneath the wheels of a Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad freight train.

Police said Shortridge bet Donald Patrick, 26, also of Portsmouth, a dollar that he could hop the train. Shortridge grabbed a boxcar but slipped, police said. The train severed his left arm below the elbow and cut his leg so severely it had to be amputated below the knee.

Any Doubt About It?

The National Committee for an Effective Congress, whatever that is, says Eisenhower Republicans in Congress are "leaderless" and are not getting effective help from the White House.

This refers to the group of Republicans in Congress who are willing to go down the line for every detail of the President's program and is aimed at increasing this group's influence. It calls attention to an important and puzzling problem.

How does a leader assert his leadership? President Eisenhower's way of doing it is decidedly different from that of Harry Truman when he was in the White House. Yet, no one can say Mr. Truman was a stronger president than Mr. Eisenhower.

Franklin D. Roosevelt certainly had a way of his own. But his way had its limitations, too. Herbert Hoover tried logic, without conspicuous success. Calvin Coolidge operated largely on the theory of letting things go in the direction they seemed inclined to go, as did Warren G. Harding.

Woodrow Wilson relied heavily on idealism, Theodore Roosevelt on dynamic energy, William McKinley on sweet reasonableness. Every president must devise his own means and methods, relative to his own position and the circumstances of his time. The appraisal of his leadership will be made by history, not by his contemporaries.

There is no doubt in anyone's mind, not even the minds of the people behind the National Committee for an Effective Congress, that Dwight Eisenhower is the nation's popular leader, whatever criticisms may be made of his leadership in such minor matters as backing up his down-the-line adherents in Congress.

Special-Use Fees

Ohio's House of Representatives was right in smiting down Gov. O'Neill on his veto of the fee bill. The Ohio Senate, which sustained the veto, was wrong.

The governor's reasoning on this issue held that an increase in fees for services performed by county officials would take more money from the public and would be, therefore, the same as an increase in taxes.

Whereupon, he admitted that some of the fees should be brought more in line with the cost of the services but said he thought the increases in the bill before him were too steep. The net result of his veto is to cause the public to continue to pay part of the cost of services which are not performed for the public in general. The county fees in question are special-use fees paid for specific county services. The services are of no direct benefit to the public at large.

To make the public at large pay for them through general taxation is no different in principle than it would be to make the public pay for all dog licenses, auto licenses, vendors' licenses etc.

The last readjustment in county fees was made in 1911. The auditor's fee for transferring a deed, for example, was set at 10 cents, with a maximum of $1.50. Under this antiquated schedule, a deed transferring hundreds of lots costs no more than a deed transferring 15 lots.

This was the kind of inequity which county officials hoped to correct in the fee bill before the General Assembly in this session. They were rebuffed. But they were not wrong.

BUC In The Middle

It would appear that both sides are right from the arguments being used for and against the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation's position on supplemental unemployment benefits that are not paid concurrently with state compensation.

The bureau's administrator, James R. Tichenor, argues that employer-paid benefits that are not concurrent with state benefits, cannot be barred until a ruling to that effect has been made. The Ohio Chamber of Commerce, incidentally, believes this position is correct.

Meanwhile, the Ohio Information Committee, which has led the fight in Ohio against any move to legalize supplemental unemployment benefits, claims the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation is acting out of order; that in effect it is letting SUB come into Ohio by the back door by not locking the door.

Behind the argument are plans recently introduced in the auto industry for forms of supplemental benefits not clearly barred by the existing law, which deals directly only with such benefits when they are concurrent with state benefits.

This was the plan voted down by Ohioans in a statewide referendum in 1955, after it had been proposed unsuccessfully in the General Assembly.

The question is whether or not the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation has been confronted with a brand new issue, or whether the new plans introduced by the auto industry are the same as the issue cleared up by the statewide referendum in 1955.

BUC, under fire from both directions, cannot very well please any of its critics.

Election Seen Solution To Court Dilemma

David Lawrence

Now that the Supreme Court has transformed itself into what is being termed "another legislative body," a movement has started to bring about the election of the high court justices by the people. It would require a constitutional amendment. The idea, of course, is not novel. This happens to be the custom in the several states with few exceptions. Thirty-six states elect their highest court judges at the polls, four states elect their top judges by vote of the state legislatures, and only eight states follow the federal custom of appointment by the executive with the consent of the legislature.

Since the Supreme Court of the United States has set itself up as having the right to tell Congress how to run its committees and the executive departments that they must retain employees they don't like, the question of how the Supreme Court itself shall be held accountable for its acts has arisen.

THIS HAS happened several times before in American history. President Franklin D. Roosevelt thought the answer to an arbitrary or capricious court was to increase the number of justices so he could appoint those who would decide cases as he thought they should be decided. This scheme was called "court-packing."

It required legislation and was frowned upon by Congress in 1937. Former President Theodore Roosevelt, as a candidate for the presidency in 1912, urged that there be a system of "recall of judicial decision" so the people, by referendum, could affirm or reverse decisions, especially in state courts.

Today the Supreme Court of the United States has rendered so many conflicting and confusing decisions that many lawyers throughout the country are perplexed and bewildered.

THE ISSUE was succinctly stated by a member of the Supreme Court itself, the late Justice Robert H. Jackson, who, in the course of an opinion in 1953, wrote: "Rightly or wrongly, the belief is widely held by the practicing profession that this court no longer respects impersonal rules of law but is guided in these matters by personal impressions which from time to time may be shared by a majority of justices."

"Whatever has been intended, this court also has generated an impression: that regard for precedents and authorities is obsolete, that words no longer mean what they have always meant to the profession, that the law knows no fixed principles."

FOR THE LAST 20 years many of the professors of law in the university law schools, particularly in the East, have raised a whole generation of so-called "liberals" who believe that the Supreme Court should make "policy" and that to adhere to historic principles is out of keeping with the spirit of the times.

This is the type of thinking which has bred throughout the country a feeling that the court pays more attention to sociology or political science or ideological considerations nowadays than it does to fundamental interpretation of the constitution and to the enduring principles of jurisprudence.

If, therefore, the Supreme Court is to make "policies," to whom should it be responsible?

It now places itself above both the Congress and the executive, which are themselves accountable to the people. The justices, however, are accountable to no one but themselves.

Such an autocracy was never envisioned by the founding fathers when they authorized life tenure for justices. The several States have wisely written into their constitutions that judges must go before the people—sometimes after six-year and sometimes after 12 or 14-year terms. But there is a check by the people.

CRITICISM of the Supreme Court is mounting. Unfortunately, it is a criticism that attributes political or ideological motives to the justices.

Many Republicans and Democrats, moreover, are blaming President Eisenhower for the peculiar attitude that Chief Justice Warren has taken since being on the high court.

"Why was Warren ever appointed?" is asked repeatedly in political circles. He was known as a middle-of-the-roader for many years.

Mr. Eisenhower, however, is reported to be as much surprised as the general public that Mr. Warren has become enamored of the Douglas-Black philosophy and consistently follows the radical line without the slightest show of independence.

Justice Black wrote extensively on the rights of congressional investigating committees when he was a U.S. senator, and so did Justice Frankfurter before he came to the court.

THEY BOTH thought investigating committees shouldn't be restricted in gathering information and in browbeating recalcitrant witnesses.

They wrote approvingly of the harassment of the businessmen of those days.

But when the harassment now turns to persons who have had "past associations" with Communists and who conceal their connections, both Justices Frankfurter and Black seem to become champions of the very individual rights which they once urged should be denied as businessmen sought to exercise them against the witch-hunting and fishing expeditions of congressional committees.

So, since it is all so obviously political, there are many persons in Congress who are coming reluctantly to the conclusion that election of judges for fixed terms, with the right to run for re-election, is the only way out of the political dilemma which the present court has created by its "legislative" decisions.

New Shot In The Arm?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The men who like to help the women with their home laundry chores look for a pickup in sales of washers and dryers this fall.

They base this hope on a recent increase in orders by distributors, doubly welcome after discouraging results in the first four months of the year.

And the appliance makers hope that a fairly widespread rise in prices for the fall lines won't wither the seedling of revival.

The makers also are counting on new versions of the washer-dryer combination to overcome some of the troubles housewives have had in washing garments made of many kinds of fibers.

Fred Maytag II, president of the Maytag Co. of Newton, Iowa, reports that, strangely, much of the pickup in orders he has noted in the last three weeks has been for the old-fashioned wringer type of washer.

He admits that sales of dryers may be slow this summer. But he thinks the rebound in the fall will be sharp because "the return of bad weather always makes the housewife think of buying a dryer."

The industry's bad start this year came on the heels of its biggest production year. Spokesmen admit now they probably overproduced.

This year dealers and distributors have been reported living in large part of inventories. Manufacturers figure this phase is about over—hence the pickup in orders.

But in the first quarter of the year the American Home Laundry Manufacturers Assn. reported sales of washers slid 22 per cent below those of the same period in 1956, dryer sales were down 20 per cent and ironer sales down 20 per cent.

Faced with slipping sales, some of the makers nevertheless are raising prices.

Westinghouse Electric has just upped the price of its one model now in production by five per cent. General Electric's fall line will be up by 4 to 7 per cent.

The replacement market is a growing thing, Maytag says, adding that perhaps the combination washer-dryer will prove to be the new shot in the arm for the industry.

With repayments of instalment loans mounting, the consumer may be in position to buy newer gadgets this fall. So Maytag is recalling 235 production workers laid off at the Newton plant in April.

Emergency Case!

Protecting The Individual

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The main point in the Supreme Court's history-making decisions on civil liberties has been the widening of protection for individuals against intrusion by the government: federal, state or local.

The court has been pretty consistent in guarding the right of an individual to refuse to answer congressional committee questions by invoking the Fifth Amendment, which says a man can't be compelled to tell anything self-incriminating.

For example: Last year it ruled the City of New York was wrong in firing a professor in one of its colleges for using the Fifth Amendment before a congressional committee.

True, the court said, he had no constitutional right to the job. But he did have a constitutional right to use the Fifth Amendment when he was questioned about past membership in the Communist party.

The court said: "The privilege against self-incrimination would be reduced to a hollow mockery if its exercises could be taken as equivalent either to a confession of guilt or a conclusive presumption of perjury."

"The amendment serves to protect the innocent who might otherwise be ensnared by ambiguous circumstances."

But this week the court went far beyond that by ruling in favor of two men who had been convicted of contempt when, without invoking the protection of any amendment at all, they refused to answer questions.

The men argued the answers would not serve any public purpose and that the questions themselves were simply an intrusion into private beliefs.

One was John T. Watkins, a labor organizer, who balked at questions by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The other was Paul M. Sweezy, lecturer and author, who would not answer questions by New Hampshire's attorney general.

Watkins had been identified by two witnesses as a Communist; he said they had known him. He denied he ever was a Communist although he admitted he had worked with Communists but had broken with them.

Then the committee asked him about people he knew in his pre-break days. He said he would answer all questions about himself and about people he honestly thought were still Communists. But he refused to talk about people he thought were no longer members of the party.

The majority opinion of the Supreme Court said in effect that when a congressional committee asks questions they must have a purpose connected with the business of Congress and, therefore, the public welfare.

Chief Justice Warren said this in the majority opinion: Investigations conducted solely for the aggrandizement of the investigators or to "punish" those investigated are indefensible.... There is no congressional power to expose for the sake of exposure.

"The public is, of course, entitled to be informed concerning the workings of its government. That cannot be inflated into a general power to expose where the predominant result can only be an invasion of the rights of individuals."

In this way, the court told congressional committees to ask pertinent questions if they want answers. This may not change committee tactics, but it may decrease their zeal for citing for contempt witnesses who balk at nonpertinent questions.

Sweezy had been questioned by the New Hampshire attorney general about alleged subversive activities. Sweezy said he not only wasn't subversive but didn't know any subversives.

He was asked about lectures he had given at the state university, about his interest in the Progressive party, and about his political views and associations. He declined to answer those questions.

Sweezy reasoned those questions were an unwarranted intrusion into his private life and could serve no public good since the attorney general was investigating subversion and he wasn't subversive.

The Supreme Court backed up Sweezy, with reasoning pretty much the same as in Watkins' case. The court said the attorney general had no right to dig into Sweezy's private life with questions which served no public purpose.

It Hurts A Little

By TRUMAN TWILL

A thing called mind—stretching is gaining a foothold in corporate practice, and it is something to keep an eye on.

Its purpose is to do for the mentalities of executives what the athletic clubs have been doing for their bodies; namely, to keep the boys limbered up. So they are sent back to school.

The technique is so simple it is a thing of beauty. It is as simple, in fact, as Dr. Dudley White's surprising observation when he was in the limelight as President Eisenhower's coronary specialist that more men should mow their own lawns and take a bicycle ride for kicks.

The supposition is that a mentality unaccustomed to exercises that test its resources becomes as soft and flabby as a body that is not forced to keep itself supple.

Not only does a flabby mentality get sore when it tries to exercise, but it becomes hostile to the idea of any exercise at all. Hence, mind-stretching.

The idea has been around for a number of years in different forms. It is the same idea that doctors put into practice when they leave their practices to go back to school for brush-ups on new techniques.

But in its ramifications it becomes more complicated, because the doctors are mainly concerned with techniques which would be directly useful to them. But in one version of mind-stretching, the stretches do not exercise on techniques in their specialties but do their stretching in unrelated subjects like philosophy, the visual arts and music.

The theory is that mental exercise is good in itself—that the way to keep a mentality fit is to provide it with stimulation.

But whether the stretching is done with immediately useful knowledge in mind or a smattering of stimulating information, the corporate justification is the care and feeding of managerial talent, which is in acutely short supply. Business has come to the conclusion it cannot afford to coast along in the hope of finding what it wants growing on trees; it must plant the trees and take care of the budding geniuses.

It has concluded that one way to keep the boys from getting "soft" in their ways" and taking a jaundiced view of everything unfamiliar to them is to wise them up as they go along.

The expenditure of a few thousand dollars at the right psychological moment may increase the potentialities of a hot shot by a quarter of a million dollars' worth over the long pull.

Best publicized of the mind-stretching activities is the big think-session sponsored at his summer place in Nova Scotia by the financier-industrialist Cyrus Eaton. This one is by invitation only and creates a pressure-free community of intellectualism in which Mr. Eaton's friends from all walks of life can swap ideas.

Somewhat the same sort of thing used to be done in Europe when well-heeled hosts and hostesses maintained "salons," for the exchange of ideas. But their system was for amusement only. Its beneficiaries were all mental sparklers in their own right. That was why they were invited.

It is an important practice that is evolving in the United States under business auspices, perhaps the most significant recognition ever given to the possibilities of developing the intellect as well as the physique.

Thought For Today

I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live. — Deut. 30:19.

God has so framed us as to make freedom of choice and action the very basis of all moral improvement, and all our faculties, mental and moral, resent and revolt against the idea of coercion. — William Matthews.

So They Say

I would certainly like to challenge them (Soviet leaders) to allow us to go to the crossroads in the towns and villages and preach the Gospel of Christ. — Evangelist Billy Graham.

If we lose (elections), we can't blame the Democrats, we can only blame ourselves. — Vice President Nixon.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Guarding The Kiddies

An eastern state education commissioner has barred the placing in public schools of a plaque bearing a presentation of the Ten Commandments, mankind's greatest guide to good behavior and an unsurpassed builder of character through the ages! And in an age when the kids are subjected by society to degrading and ruinous influences causing the greatest spread of juvenile delinquency in history!

The moppets have no trouble finding the creed of all agencies exploiting crime, violence, immorality and a contempt for everything taught by the Decalogue. But the Ten Commandments mustn't be emphasized, eh?

The education commissioner, turning down parent-teacher associations and upholding other groups, says, "It has been consistently pointed out by commissioners of education that boards should not permit school facilities to be used where the use stirs up dissension detrimental to the well-being of the pupil." (Imagine the Ten Commandments causing dissension detrimental to the WELL-BEING of kids!)

He adds that since the Constitution forbids the teaching of religion in schoolrooms "to display the Ten Commandments under conditions prohibiting full and free discussion is to detract from their significance."

To which "Izzatso?" would seem a proper reply, in view of the fact the schoolroom Commandments were to be a version suitable to all creeds and denominations.

WHAT HAS TO BE freely and fully discussed, commish? You mean "Thou shalt not kill" and "Honor thy father and mother" are too deep for the young?

Do you imply that the kids wouldn't understand about coveting a neighbor's wife and possessions in these days when the neighborhood movie houses, the airwaves and the news dish it all out to them, in detail—and with illustrations!!!! In color, too!

FULL AND FREE discussion needed in this crime-swept era before the moppets would understand an elemental guide, handed down 2,000 years ago in the most simple form?

How weird can we get, commish? Current events all over the nation constitute a king-sized "plaque" giving the kids a complete instruction in crookedness, assault, murder and nose-thumbing at the law.

The moppets get this picture (with or without full and free discussion) on the way to school, in the schoolyard and on the way home.

But the Ten Commandments on a schoolroom wall in a period when teachers have a stiff battle to keep the kids in line would cause "DISSENSION DETRIMENTAL TO THE WELL-BEING" OF THE SMALL FRY!!!

Doctor, pass the anti-dizziness drops!

Maneuver Enhances Outlook For Civil Rights Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today a successful parliamentary maneuver had "enhanced" the outlook for civil rights legislation. But he stopped short of predicting passage at this session of Congress.

Knowland, Senate GOP leader, engineered a victory over Southern foes of the House-passed bill Thursday night, but it was only a preliminary skirmish in what promises to be a prolonged battle.

By a 45-39 roll call vote, the Senate put the measure on its legislative calendar without referring it to the Judiciary Committee, where a similar civil rights bill has been bottled up for months.

Thirty-four Republicans and 11 Democrats voted to put the bill on the calendar and keep it out of the hands of the Judiciary Committee, which is headed by Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), an avowed opponent of the measure.

Thirty-four Democrats, including Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and five Republicans voted in favor of sending the bill to the Judiciary Committee.

Knowland, jubilant over the outcome, said "it cuts out one prospective filibuster" against the bill, a key part of the legislative program urged by President Eisenhower. The bill is aimed generally at protecting voting and other civil rights.

Had the bill gone to committee, a motion to take it away from the committee and put it on the Senate calendar would have been subject to a filibuster by Southern opponents.

As it is, however, two prospective filibusters still lie in the path of the bill—one on a motion to take it up for debate and another on its passage.

To break a filibuster takes the votes of 64 senators, or two thirds of the entire membership. Past attempts to muster the necessary votes have met with defeat.

Knowland said an effort would be made to get action on the civil rights bill before Congress adjourns. But he said that if this fails, the bill still will be on the calendar at the start of the next session in January.

Nearly nine hours of debate preceded the showdown vote, which came on a point of order by Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), against Knowland's move to bypass the Judiciary Committee.

To the surprise of many senators, Vice President Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer, put the issue to the Senate for a vote without ruling one way or another on Russell's point of order.

Nixon said he was of the opinion that the point of order was "not well taken" but that he thought the question should be decided by majority vote of the Senate.

Russell, in raising his point of order, contended that the seldom-used rule invoked by Knowland had been superseded and nullified by the Congressional Reorganization Act of 1946.

Policeman Keeps Humphrey Waiting

CLEVELAND (AP) — A traffic policeman who stopped Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey in a radar speed zone kept him waiting for 20 minutes while he ticketed other cars without knowing who the secretary was, it was learned Thursday night.

Sgt. Sam Dinardo of the Cleveland Heights Police Department, checking the speed zone earlier this week, had stopped two offenders when a call came from a radar car that a limousine with Washington license plates was clocked at 35 miles an hour in the 25-mile zone.

The sergeant stopped the big car and then proceeded to ticket the first two cars. Twenty minutes later he walked over to the limousine and asked the distinguished man behind the wheel for his driver's license. The man explained that in changing trousers at his home in nearby Mentor the night before he had left his wallet, with the license in the other trousers. He then identified himself as the Secretary of the Treasury.

Humphrey's chauffeur confirmed the story and explained the secretary was hurrying to catch a plane. Sgt. Dinardo let Humphrey drive on.

"I guess I was overawed," the sergeant explained Thursday night. "I know I'll catch the devil from motorists I've ticketed. I just hope they understand."

Mr. Charles E. Wagner of McClure, Pa., spent the weekend with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hartzell and family. Other visitors were Mrs. George Richardson of Barberton, Mrs. Wendell Diehl and family, of Akron; John Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. Grace Green, all of Alliance; Mr. and Mrs. Armon Hartzell, Dale and Donnie Hartzell, Mrs. Everett Myers and daughter, Diane, of Deerfield; and Linda Myers of York Springs, Pa.

Games for the little folks were in charge of Mrs. J. S. Hicks, of Alliance. The adults played badminton and visited. It was decided to hold next year's reunion at the same place unless notified differently, the third Sunday in June. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mann and family of Arlington, Va. were present.

Richard and Linda Myers, of York Springs, Pa., are spending the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Myers.

Bud Close of Dayton spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Thelma Close.

The Deerfield Palmyra Welsh Club held a picnic supper recently at the home of Mabel Lewis at Palmyra.

Next Sunday is conference Sunday and the Rev. Nevin Wertenberger will preach on the subject, "Pills for Peace," at the Methodist Church. Rev. Sillman will be at conference at the Lakeside service which starts at 11 a.m.

Rev. Don Sillman has announced that Sunday, June 30, has been set aside for communion Sunday.

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN
Premenstrual Tension

It is with some reluctance that I shall discuss the subject of premenstrual tension today.

My hesitation comes from the fact that many people have strong imaginations and I dislike suggesting symptoms which the imagination can so readily invent or exaggerate.

However, it is generally recognized today that many women prior to the onset of their menstrual periods do develop various discomforts and symptoms which disappear, or at least fade, with the onset of the menses.

Few women have all of the symptoms associated with premenstrual tension; but among the most common are pain and swelling of the breasts, bloating of the abdomen, backache, leg cramps, slight gain in weight, headaches, worsening of certain skin eruptions, anxiety, depression, irritability or restlessness, difficulty in sleeping, dizziness and other changes from the usual state of well-being or mental contentment.

Many women experience none of these symptoms. Furthermore, if present at all, the disturbance may be mild in one woman and more severe in another.

It is not yet entirely clear what causes premenstrual tension, though the finger of suspicion certainly points toward some change in hormone production at this period of the cycle. If this is the correct explanation, it is believed that changed secretion may lead primarily to three effects, namely, some retention of fluids, disturbance in the burning of starches in the body and increase in the number of cells in some parts of the system.

The idea that a woman afflicted with severe premenstrual tension can only grin and bear it is beginning to be abandoned. In some women nothing much needs to be done because the symptoms are mild and last only a short time. But in others there is enough incapacitation to warrant medical help.

Several different methods of alleviating tension have been suggested. Apparently considerable relief can be provided by a diet in which the starches are reduced, salt is cut down and the proteins and fats in the diet correspondingly increased. Also some physicians claim that certain vitamins may be of help.

Several drugs have also been made available which appear to reduce the symptoms of premenstrual tension. Consequently, medicine now can provide some aid to most of those who suffer seriously from premenstrual tension. In the light of present knowledge, however, most of these measures should be reserved for those whose lives are really disrupted by discomfort or other symptoms. The situation should be ignored by the much larger number of women who suffer not at all, or only slightly.

Bitterness Aftermath Of Rescue

Doctor Sends Hooper Family Bill For $1,500

MANORVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Five weeks ago the Benny Hooper story was one of unity and heroism—neighbors joining in tireless labor to free a small child from an earthen prison. Today it was a tale of division, dissension and worry.

The parents of 7-year-old Benny told newspapermen Thursday they were "stunned" to receive a bill for $1,500 from Dr. Joseph Kris, the physician who attended their son while he was trapped in a well for nearly 24 hours May 16 and 17.

The man who supervised rescue operations, Mike Stiz, said there is bitterness over the heroic role assigned to Sam Woodson, a Negro employee of his construction firm who brought the boy out of the well. Stiz said other men actually did more but were overlooked.

Rumors have circulated in this rural community on eastern Long Island that the Hoopers have profited from the sensational rescue of their son, and that all the publicity has made them snooty.

The Hoopers say the rumors are untrue, they aren't snooty, they haven't received much money, and mainly they're just worried because the near-tragedy caused them financial trouble.

"We haven't got the money, that's what's worrying us," said the father, Benjamin K. Hooper, in commenting on the doctor's bill. He takes home $62 a week as a highway work foreman. His wife makes an after-tax $43 a week as a telephone operator, but has taken a month off to take care of Benny and rest up after her ordeal.

The Hoopers said they received thousands of letters from well-wishers, but a cash total of less than $400 in the letters.

Benny received $1,000 each for two television appearances. The Hoopers gave one check to the Manorville Fire Department, which played a big part in the rescue, and put the other in a trust fund for Benny's education.

"We're going over to see Dr. Kris. He must have been misled somewhere along the line that we received a lot of money," Hooper said.

He emphasized that he was grateful for the doctor's efforts, but said he can just about make ends meet now.

Dr. Kris, an anesthesiologist, maintained constant and apparently tireless watch over the 24-foot hole in which Benny was trapped, and supervised the successful efforts to keep the child supplied with oxygen. He attended Benny at nearby Bayview Hospital after the rescue.

He said his colleagues had told him he would be foolish not to submit a bill.

"The time I put in was eight full days and close to 100 hours," he said. "My time is worth $30 an hour. I think the bill is a fair amount to charge."

He called the bill "about one half of the amount to which I am entitled."

"I don't practice medicine for money," the gray-haired specialist said. "I practice because I love medicine. . . . If they have the money they should pay their honest bill."

"A man from Brooklyn telephoned me and offered to send a check and settle the bill. I said no. It's not a question of money, it's a question of principle."

If the Hoopers felt the bill was too high, he said, "they should have gone to the grievance board of the county medical society. What they did instead was go to the newspapers."

Kris said he did not volunteer his services, but was called in by police.

Dr. Frank Calabro, head of Bayview Hospital, said, "There's no question of any bill from us."

Stiz said he felt the doctor's bill was justified. "Just because I don't want to get paid doesn't mean the doctor shouldn't," he said. He also said he didn't think the Hoopers were "very appreciative."

The construction company head said Woodson arrived on the scene late in the rescue operation and disobeyed orders by entering the shaft to get the boy.

He said other volunteers more familiar with the situation had been selected to go in. Woodson could have imperiled the whole operation, he charged.

No immediate comment from Woodson was available.

Willis Drummond, 33, of East Liverpool forfeited a $25 bond for driving over freshly painted center lines.

Both drivers were cited by state patrol.

Pledges In YWCA Campaign Sought

The public was urged by the YWCA board of directors today to make their pledges soon in the fund drive which, it is hoped, will be concluded next week.

The board convened in special session Thursday afternoon to discuss the offer of the union members of the Columbiana County Building Trades Council and Columbiana County Builders Association members, and suppliers and sub contractors, to join forces and furnish labor gratis and materials at cost for the contemplated YW annex.

"This generous offer and civic cooperation will make our YWCA possible, and will enable us to have a much finer building, much better materials and workmanship than we could have possibly afforded," Mrs. Frank Brian, president, told the board.

The board urged Salem area people "to make their pledges and to respond to the generous offer and community spirit and cooperation of the unions and contractors."

The $75,000 building fund goal is necessary in order to buy the Lease property on N. Lincoln Ave. for a YW home, and to pay for materials, equipment, furnishings, and other costs.

Pledges so far given in the drive total $29,190.27, leaving $45,809.73 to be garnered.

The public is invited to attend the final report meeting Thursday night at 8 in the First Methodist Church when campaign workers and captains are to turn in final pledge lists.

The election board will improve petitions for candidates as soon as the required data is available, according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, board clerk. He said he expects a flood of candidates to apply. The filing deadline is the same for other candidates in the general election — Aug. 4.

O'Hanlon pointed out the new law abolishing the JP's did not affect the election of constables in the townships. Any township in which a county judge will have jurisdiction will elect at least one constable this fall, he said.

Bundy Denies Taking Part In Holdup-Killing

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A flat denial by Harry Dale Bundy that he took part in a holdup slaying under goes the challenge of cross-examination by the prosecution today in Bundy's first-degree murder trial.

The 39-year-old Zanesville man, speaking quickly, concisely and with little show of emotion, told his story from the witness stand through most of Thursday afternoon's session. The essence of it was summed up in his answers to two questions by Frank Lucas, defense counsel:

Q. Were you in the County Line Market the night of Nov. 23, 1956?
A. No, sir. I was not.

Q. Did you kill Reynold Amadio?
A. No, sir. I did not.

Bundy is charged with the slaying of Amadio, 30, of Canal Fulton, at a grocery store in Uniontown during a holdup about 8 p.m. Nov. 23. Paul Cain, 35, Cuyahoga Falls, a clerk in the store Amadio managed, also was shot to death in the robbery.

Accused in the holdup killings with Bundy is Russell McCoy, 22, a former co-worker with Bundy at the Line Material Co. in Zanesville. McCoy testified earlier in Bundy's trial that he and Bundy robbed the market together and that he killed Cain while Bundy shot Amadio.

In his testimony Thursday Bundy said he stayed in Canton, making a round of bars on the night of Nov. 23, and McCoy left him about 7 p.m. to go to Akron alone. Uniontown is about halfway between here and Akron on Ohio 8.

The defense Thursday put Louise Desimone, a barmaid, on the stand prior to Bundy. She testified Bundy was in the bar at or after 8 p.m. on the night of the shooting.

Another part of Bundy's testimony dealt with two other killings of which McCoy is accused. The defense seeks to establish that McCoy's testimony implicating Bundy in the Uniontown slayings was prompted by revenge because Bundy had told police about the other double killing.

Bundy testified that at 4:45 a.m. Feb. 9 McCoy came to the side door of the Zanesville plant where both were employed and whistled to him.

"McCoy was all dressed up and had blood on the front of his shirt," Bundy said. McCoy wanted to borrow money and told Bundy he had killed his half-sister, Louise See, and her husband Lloyd about two hours earlier, Bundy testified.

Bundy quoted McCoy as telling him he "poured kerosene on them, locked the doors and windows and then set the house on fire."

During that conversation, Bundy testified, McCoy carried two guns and warned Bundy against telling police of the See killings.

mittee meeting, the IBOP said the conferees comprise "a collective bargaining policy committee."

The committee "will draft proposals to be forwarded to the respective manufacturers and the USPA under contract with the Brotherhood for the members employed in these two branches of the industry," the IBOP said.

The committee "is authorized under the Brotherhood's collective bargaining procedure to negotiate proposals in a joint conference with manufacturers in drawing up a new contract," the union said. It added the members have the authority to vote for a strike in accordance with the National Labor Relations Board regulations.

In order to qualify for strike benefits, a stoppage must have been authorized by a two-thirds vote of the members of the trade or local unions concerned in company wide contract regulations, the IBOP said.

like a huge, flexible tube waving in the air."

Thus forewarned, Rasmussen, his neighbors and many others in the area got into their cars and drove away from the storm.

A hysterical mother, Mrs. Gerald Munson, identified five of the dead as her three daughters — Phyllis Louise, 6, Jeannette, 5, and Mary Beth, 1—and her two sons, Darwin, 12, and Bradley, 10.

Mrs. Munson, at work away from home when she heard radio warnings of the approaching storm, called her house in time to hear the oldest daughter "it's hitting." Then the phone went dead.

Searchers recovered the bodies of the five children. Their father was absent on an out-of-town job.

Olson, the police chief, said the slow pace of the tornado, plus radio warnings of its approach, saved a possibly greater casualty toll.

After lashing Fargo, the storm dumped debris in the northeast section of Moorhead, Minn., immediately to the east across the Red River. There were no casualties nor reports of damage.

"complete disregard" of the arms ban.

Litzenberg declared the U.N. Command considered it is entitled to be relieved of obligations under the armistice provision covering replacement of weapons "until such time as the relative military balance has been restored and your side, by its action, has demonstrated its willingness to comply."

The voided provision of the agreement banned the introduction of all arms into North and South Korea except duplicate replacements for those already there at the time of the cease-fire in 1953.

Test To Show Polio Immunity Developed

CARMEI, Calif. (AP)—A group of New York scientists have developed a simple test—requiring only one drop of blood — to show whether a child is immune to polio.

The blood sampling, described Thursday to the Society for Pediatric Research, is aimed at making it possible to find not only those children immune to polio but those whose polio immunity is wearing off.

Gypsy Tinsmith, 17, Held For Kidnaping

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A young Gypsy tinsmith heads back to Chicago today to face kidnaping charges while his would-be bride waits in Juvenile Center here.

Tommie Stevens, who claims he is 17, and his 12-year-old sweetheart, Sonia Christo, were picked up here after fleeing their Gypsy tribes in Chicago Sunday.

Sitting in Juvenile Center Thursday, Tommie said the charges "are all a mistake." He said he and Sonia "just ran away for a little while in order to get our parents to agree that we can get married."

Sonia agreed.
Tommie told police that he and Sonia left Chicago because his father wasn't willing to pay the $3,000 "dowry" Sonia's parents are entitled to under Gypsy custom.

But Tommie's father, Wando, denied the dowry story.

"I'm poor," he said upon his arrival here by plane from Chicago. "I couldn't give them my hat." He said, however, that he favors Tommie's marriage "if that's what he wants."

The young pair traveled to Columbus in Wando's car, Tommie said, living on $44 they had between them.

When the money ran out Wednesday, Tommie wired a friend in Chicago for a $35 loan. The friend, however, notified Sonia's parents, who in turn notified Chicago police. Columbus police picked the young pair up while they sat in a Western Union office waiting for the loan to arrive.

Boston Red Sox Beat Cleveland Indians By Score Of 9-7

Sox Smother Indian Rally

Wynn's Record Now 8 Wins, 8 Defeats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Losers in Boston, the Cleveland Indians try to get their Eastern trip into the black ink with a four-game series opening tonight. It's against the Washington Nationals, who have lost twice as many games as they've won so far this season.

The Nationals, holders of the American League cellar position by a margin of six games, want to refresh Chuck Stobbs' memory of how it feels to pitch a victory. Stobbs has lost 11 and won none this season.

Don Mossi, unbeaten in four starts, will hurl for the Tribe. Manager Kerby Farrell plans to use his new rookie catcher, Dick Brown, in at least some of the games here. Brown came up from Omaha Thursday because the Indians' No. 1 and No. 2 catchers, Jim Hegan and Hal Naragon, have been shelved by injuries for the rest of this Eastern trip.

Brown reached Fenway Park while the Indians were taking batting practice. He got into the game in the last inning as a pinch-hitter with the bases filled and the Tribe trailing 9-6. Rudy Minarcin, the fourth Sox pitcher, uncorked a wild pitch while Brown was batting for Kenny Kuhn, and a run came home.

But Brown struck out. So did Al Smith, to end the game at 9-7 with Cleveland's tying runs on second and third.

The Indians went into the last inning Thursday trailing 9-4. They shelled Vic Delock off the mound with Vic Wertz' double and Rocky Colavito's 10th home run of the season, which Delock capped by walking Maris.

Dean Stone got Chico Carrasquel on a fly, but Bob Avila, who had been on the bench resting an injured leg, pinch-hit for Russ Nixon. Gene Woodling loaded the bases with a single to left. Then in came Minarcin to strike out Brown and Smith.

The Red Sox got nine hits and six runs off Early Wynn in three innings, sending the knuckleballer to his eighth defeat against eight victories.

Four Boston runs came in the first inning on singles by Jim Piersall, Mickey Vernon, Ted Lepcio and Sammy White and a double past third base by Billy Klaus.

In the second inning singles by Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen, sandwiching a walk, produced a run and in the third White's single and Klaus' triple made it 6-1.

The Tribe got its first run on Dick Williams' single and Wertz' double in the first inning. Another run in the fifth came off starter and winner Dave Sisler. Wertz hit the second of his three two-runners and advanced on Colavito's single and Maris' double play grounder.

The deciding runs proved to be two unearned ones Boston got off Bud Daley in the eighth. Maris dropped a fly ball by Williams after Klaus had singled, and the ground out and Frank Malzone's single which followed each drove in a run.

UCLA May Withdraw From Conference
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—University of California regents rule today on whether their schools at Los Angeles and Berkeley can withdraw from the Pacific Coast Conference if they desire.

Before the board will be a report from its educational policy committee which was given jurisdiction May 25 after UCLA alumni made a fervent pitch for immediate withdrawal.

The committee, headed by Edward Carter of Los Angeles, met Thursday night but he refused to divulge their decisions.

Speculation here was that the answer to UCLA would be "no." Officials, however, remained silent.

Powerful alumni of UCLA have demanded since last year that the school be permitted to withdraw from the PCC, UCLA, Southern California, Washington and California last year drew heavy penalties from the conference because of under the table financial aid to athletes, mostly by alumni and booster groups.

The alumni felt the PCC regulations are unrealistic.

Rory Calhoun Is 7-5 Underdog In Clash With Joey Giardello

By The Associated Press
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Husky Rory Calhoun, still burning over a disputed, one-point loss to Joey Giardello, hopes to take it all out on Joey Giambra in the clash of middleweight contenders at War Memorial Auditorium tonight.

Calhoun, a 22-year-old belter from New York, is a 7-5 underdog, however, to the slick boxer-puncher from San Francisco by way of Buffalo. They collide in a television (NBC, 9 p.m., EST), 10-round.

Giambra, ranked fourth among the 160-pound contenders, has been made the betting choice on the strength of nine straight victories—50-1-1, including 26 knockouts.

Calhoun, a pro less than three years, has a 27-2 record, including 15 knockouts. He lost to Giardello in Cleveland, May 17. His other defeat, also in a close fight, was to Spider Webb, in Chicago, Aug. 29, 1956.

Rory, the son of an Atlanta minister, may find the 25-year-old Giambra tougher than either Webb or Giardello.

Handsome Joey has one of the best left hands in the division. He can jab and hook with flashing speed and when he has the upper hand, can rattle an opponent with swift left-right combinations.

Bill Veeck To Be Guest At Amvets' Fish Fry June 28

Bill Veeck, public relations director for the Cleveland Indians, and former general manager of the Tribe, will be guest speaker when the Salem Amvets lodge holds a fish fry Friday, June 28, at the club rooms on E. Pershing St.

The colorful baseball figure, who returned to Cleveland after several years in a managerial capacity with the St. Louis Browns, will discuss all aspects of baseball and the Indians in particular when he makes his appearance here.

His talk is scheduled for 9 p.m. that night and all Amvets and guests are invited. Any of the general public wanting to hear Veeck is asked to call the Amvets clubrooms any evening after 7.

The fish fry will follow Veeck's talk.

Completing arrangements for the program are Carl Sobotka, post commander, Ray Bartholow, George McFeely, Torch Nedelka, and Bob Shoe.

Bill Veeck

Red Legs Wallop Dodgers 6-1

Grand Slam Home Run Decides Game

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds still aren't hitting very often but when they do they hit hard.

The Brooklyn Dodgers found that out again Thursday night. For the second straight night, the Reds clubbed two home runs in the same inning for a victory. The score was 6-1.

Wally Post's grand slam home run was the decisive wallop and it served to boost the Reds into third place in the National League. They passed both Philadelphia and Brooklyn.

Sharing honors with Post was Brooks Lawrence, who pitched his sixth victory. He allowed the Dodgers eight scattered hits, struck out seven and didn't walk a man.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts called it "one of the best games he ever pitched."

It took the Reds four innings to catch up with Dodger starter Roger Craig, using a no-windup delivery, didn't allow a hit until the fourth. Then he came apart at the seams.

Gus Bell started it by picking on the first pitch for a home run. Eight pitches later Craig had George Crowe and Ed Bailey on base on walks. Frank Robinson picked Craig's next pitch for a smash that Charley Neal could only knock down.

That brought Ed Roebuck to the mound and Post followed with his home run to score Crowe, Bailey and Robinson ahead of him.

Oddly, the homer was hit over the right field screen and Post normally sends his long drives into left field.

Cincinnati's only other run came in the sixth when Robinson tripled and scored on a wild pitch.

Lawrence had the Dodgers stifled virtually all the way. He gave up a home run to Duke Snider in the first inning and they never scored again. They had two men in with one out in the seventh but the husky right-hander trucked out pinch hitter Sandy Amoroso and forced Junior Gilliam to fly out.

Senior AAU Trackfield Championships Open
DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The 100-yard dash, with at least four world title-holders in the field, holds the spotlight tonight as the 69th annual Senior AAU trackfield championships open at Dayton High School Stadium.

Although Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian, winner of last Saturday's NCAA century, will be absent, the 36 entrants include such stars as Leamon King of California and Dave Sime, co-holders of the world 100-yard dash mark of 9.3 seconds, Ira Murchison of Western Michigan and Willie Williams, just out of the Army, who shares the world 100-meter record of 10.1.

REDS SIGN MICKEY OWEN

CINCINNATI (AP)—General Manager Gabe Paul announced Thursday night the signing of former major league catcher Mickey Owen as a Cincinnati Redleg scout.

Villanova, IC4A outdoor track champion of 1957, turned in the best performances in the east in nine events during the track and field season.

Findlay, Lima Youths Are Favored To Win

By The Associated Press
LIMA, Ohio — The Western Ohio Junior Tennis Tournament here reached the semi-finals in both singles and doubles today with Dave Goodman of Findlay favored to win in the Junior Division, and Phil White of Lima getting the bow in the Boys' Division. The latter faces a busy, four-event day.

The Junior Division is open to boys 18 and under, and the Boys' Division to players 15 and under. White, however, has entered both competitions, and clashes with top seeded Goodman in the Junior singles event. In the other match, Bob Bagley of Marion, seeded No. 2, meets John White of Lima.

Goodman and Bagley team up against John White and Tom Welch of Lima in one of two Junior doubles semi-final clashes. In the other, Jim Evans of Lima and Ramon Lewis of Bluffton meet Phil White and Bob Kruse of Lima.

In the doubles semi-finals of the Boys' Division, Maxim and Eikenberry play Bill Calhoun and Rick Redd of Lima and Phil White and Brett Roberts of Lima go against Tom Clark and Keith Kirks of Marion.

Columbiana County Softball Tourney Scheduled Here

The annual Columbiana County Softball Tournament will be held at Kelley Field the weekends of July 6 and 7 and 13 and 14. Men's and girls' teams will compete.

The champion and runner-up teams in each division will advance to district play which will also be held in Salem, beginning Sunday, July 21.

Any team in the county is eligible to compete in the tourney. The entry fee is $15, which also pays team membership into the Ohio State Softball Association.

Further information and entry blanks may be obtained by writing Lee Burton, city parks and recreational director, at the Memorial Building here.

Rosburg Leads By 2 Strokes In Tourney

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Pudgy Bob Rosburg, who passed up professional baseball in favor of golf and made enough money so he wouldn't regret it, held a two-stroke advantage today as a bulky field entered the second round of the $7,000 Flint Open.

Rosburg's 65-six under par at the 6,625-yard Flint Golf Club layout—was accomplished in Thursday's first round largely on the strength of his unerring putter.

Rosburg used only 22 putts as he fired rounds of 33 and 32 over the par 36-35-71 course.

The touring pros found the course generally easy and 38 of them matched or bettered par.

Dow Finsterwald who has finished in the money in all 53 tournaments in which he has participated was bunched with eight others with 69s, just four strokes off the pace.

The 27-year-old Finsterwald was the winner last year when the tournament was held in St. Louis.

Doug Ford, the 1955 winner and current Masters champion, had a 72 while Julius Boros, the 1954 victor, had a 75.

Baltimore Orioles Tally 4-1 Win Over Chicago White Sox

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Al Lopez herded his American League leading Chicago White Sox into New York today proclaiming "you always think you can beat 'em."

To clarify that he wasn't just being trite, Lopez recalled the Sox have played the Yankees only twice so far this season in New York and "we won both games."

It was during that trip just exactly a month ago that Lopez expressed a firm opinion that the Yankees are ripe to be dethroned as champions.

Chicago's two victories at that time increased their lead over the Yanks to four games. They start their four-game series tonight with a 1½-game margin.

Jim Wilson, right hander with a 7-3 record, will start off pitching for the Sox. Lopez, is a little indefinite about his next three starters beyond Billy Pierce, baseball's most successful south-paw with a record of 10-4.

Manager Lopez has two limping outfielders, Larry Doby and Jim Landis, that he's hoping will "get in" the Yankee series.

"Both are improving, but they can't let out yet," Lopez reported. Landis has been benched for 10 days and Doby hampered for even longer although he has been in a couple of games. Thursday Doby pinch hit a single to drive in a run.

It was the only run the Sox could score while the Baltimore Orioles tallied four.

The Orioles have caused Chicago more trouble than any team except the Yankees. Baltimore has won half of their 10 games while the Yankees have won five out of eight.

Chicago scored only five runs off Baltimore hurlers in the three-game series and got only one extra-base hit. But they've been getting by so far this season without loud noises at the plate.

Mostly they've been able to hang on through good pitching until late in the game to score enough to win. They've come from behind 17 times to do it and have broken late or extra-inning ties to take seven others.

Thirty-two of the 56 games played by the White Sox have been decided by one or two runs, and they have copped 20 of them.

West End, Herron's, Collens', Drive-In Win Softball Games

By MARK MILLER
Herron's Transfer beat Parker's 4-1, Salem Drive-In defeated Petrucci's 7-4, Collens' ripped Chapell's 11-3, and West End crushed Schwartz's 31-3 in city softball at Kelley Park Thursday night.

An improved Herron's team tied early and then staved off a last inning rally by the Parker team. John McQuiston had a beautiful two-hitter going against the losers into the bottom half of the seventh frame.

Leading 4-0, Mcuiston walked Frank Lanney with one out. Lanney stole second base on a passed ball from the pitcher to the catcher, and started for third base. On the overthrow from the catcher to third, he tallied Parker's only run.

Bill Schuster led the winner's attack, rapping out two hits in four trips to the plate. George Haynam got two hits in three trips to the plate.

Salem Drive-In, trailing 4-2 going into the last two frames, rallied for five runs to whip Petrucci's handily. Petrucci's scored their only runs in the first two innings, getting two each frame.

Ferguson led the winners' attack with two hits in three trips to the plate, while Stayton led the losers with a perfect night at the plate with three straight hits.

Chappell's looked like champions in the top half of the first frame, scoring three runs, but the team fell apart in the last half of the first when Collens' tallied four runs.

Loose play and costly errors again characterized Chappell play. Collens' got all their runs on eight hits and six errors.

Dean Miller paced the winners with two hits in three trips to the plate, and Burrier and Mark Miller had Chappell's only hits.

West End overpowered Schwartz' with a 29-hit barrage. The hapless losers contributed to the West End cause with 14 errors.

West End tallied 15 runs in the first frame, five in the second, three in the third and eight in the fourth. They failed to tally in the fifth frame.

Barbara Mossey had a perfect night at the plate for the winners, rapping out five successive hits, while Barbara Erath made two hits in three attempts for the losers.

Pirates Lose 7-4 To Redbirds

Cardinals Have Won 14 Out Of 17 Games

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It's only the first day of summer but pennant talk already is waxing among fans of the onrushing St. Louis Cardinals, now perched atop the National League.

The Redbirds moved a half game in front Thursday night by taking a third straight game from the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-4, but Pirate Manager Bobby Bragan doesn't see the Cards as champions.

Bragan said if he were relying on sentiment he'd pick the Cards to win the title—"but realistically I'll have to go with either Milwaukee or Brooklyn."

That's just fine with the Cardinals' general manager, Frank Lane, and his field leader, Fred Hutchinson.

"It builds my pennant hopes," Lane declared.

"Bragan hasn't been right yet. He is a great guy but a horrible prognosticator. I'd be worried if he had picked us to win."

Bragan said the Cards "just aren't as strong as the others—Milwaukee, Brooklyn or Cincinnati—in long ball sluggers. Generally speaking, (Stan) Musial or (Dell) Ennis are the only hitters you have to worry about in a tight game.

"I think third place is the best the Cards can hope for."

Redbird fans, who haven't seen their club on top this late in the season since 1950, point out the Cardinals lead the National League in team hitting (.280) and are second only to Cincinnati in runs scored.

Musial leads the league's hitters with a .368 mark and is on top in runs batted in with 53. Ennis is fourth in RBI's at 39.

What the Cards lack in power they make up in consistency, they argue. Redbird pitching has improved and perhaps has been the biggest factor in their 21 victories in the past 28 games. On May 22 the Cards were in sixth place, 8½ games out. Since then they've won 14 of 17.

COACH WILL RESIGN
PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Charles V. Preston, basketball coach at nearby Rarden High School, says he will resign that post to become a district director with the Ohio Department of Highway Safety. His headquarters will be in Washington.

The 1957 women's city bowling tournament at Grand Haven, Mich. was won by Coralyn Olthoff, who is only 19. She set a record with a high series of 684 on games of 245, 213 and 236.

New York Scores 3-1 Victory Over Detroit

Giants Edge Braves 4-3 In 12 Frames; Phillies, Senators Win

By Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals finally have the National League lead in hand.

With a .750 winning percentage over the last month, they've risen all the way from sixth place while the rest of the contenders were playing musical chairs with first-division berths.

They were 8½ games off the pace when they started to move. Since then they've won 21 of 28 games.

Murry Dickson, a 40-year-old right-hander, held Pittsburgh in check Thursday on seven hits before tiring and giving way to relief in the eighth while the Cards built a 7-4 victory.

New York's Giants opened the door for the Cardinals, ending Milwaukee's seven-day stay in first place with a 12-inning, 4-3 victory for the Braves' fourth defeat in the last five games.

Cincinnati regained third place, 1½ games back, by beating Brooklyn 6-1. Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-2.

In the American League, New York's second-place Yankees look to be on the threshold of first place, running their winning streak to seven games with a 3-1 victory over Detroit while Baltimore trimmed Chicago's first place lead to 1½ games with a 4-1 decision. The White Sox open a four-game series in New York tonight.

Boston defeated Cleveland 9-7 and Washington beat Kansas City 9-4.

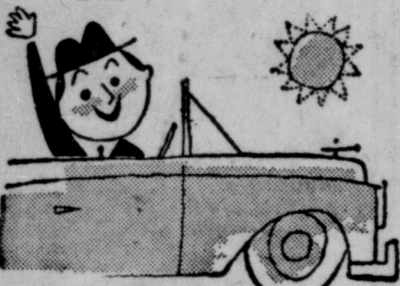

The Cardinals, swinging for nine hits and getting two RBIs from Al Dark, scored three in the third against ex-mate Luis Arroyo on singles by Dark and Ken Boyer and a double play. They scored the two that clinched it in the fifth without a hit — on a walk and two errors. Stan Musial doubled to extend his hitting streak to 20 games.

Johnny Antonelli, Danny O'Connell and Bobby Thomson, all ex-Braves, each drove in a run as the sixth-place Giants, who have won seven of their last nine, took the series 2-1. Ray Crone won the opener. Antonelli's sacrifice fly beat Taylor Phillips in the rubber game.

The Redlegs clumped five runs in the fourth inning to beat the Brooks and Roger Craig. Gus Bell homered to open the big frame and Wally Post socked a grand-slammer to cap it. Brooks Lawrence won his sixth.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix won his fifth for the Phils, driving in two runs. He struck out seven, walked only one. Gran Hamner hit a bases-loaded triple in a clinching four-run sixth inning.

Singles by Bob Boyd, Al Pillarick and Jim Busby counted two first-inning runs for the Orioles, who added two more in the second against loser Bill Fischer. Billy Loes won his seventh.

The Yankees, who had won only two of eight from Detroit before the three-game series, handed Frank Lary his eighth defeat, scoring the clincher in the sixth on Bill Skowron's double and Gil McDougald's single. Bob Turley won his third.

Dave Sisler made his lifetime record 6-1 against Cleveland as Boston's Billy Klaus, Jackie Jensen and Sammy White backed him up with two runs batted in each. Early Wynn lost his eighth.

The Senators came from behind with five runs in the seventh against losing reliever Maury McDermott. Art Schult hit a two-run pinch double and Pete Runnels had a two-run single in the rally. Pete Ramos won his fifth.

New Pitch Effective For Bob Turley

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've added another pitch. Now they can't toy with my fast ball."

That was Bob Turley's personal reaction to his impressive six-hit 3-1 triumph over Detroit Thursday, giving the New York Yankees a sweep of the three-game series with the Tigers and elevating them to within a game and a half of the league-leading Chicago White Sox.

"I've finally come up with a good curve," the fireballing right-hander said. "Oh, how I've worked and worked on it. I knew I had to have it to be a winning pitcher. I knew I couldn't rely on my fast ball alone."

"Actually, I've developed a pretty good slider too. I used it a lot today, especially against right-handed hitters."

To press box observers, the slider appeared to be Turley's most effective pitch. As he pointed out, he threw it mainly to right-handed batters, from a sidearm motion, without the wind-up of course.

Not until the eighth inning, when Harvey Kuenn singled, was a right-handed hitter able to solve him for a hit.

Actually the most surprising thing about Turley's performance was his control. Known far and wide as a wild man, he walked only one batter and hit another.

Celler Deplores 'Midseason Bombast' Over Move Rumors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.) said today testimony that Pacific Coast League clubs have suffered from talk of an impending major league invasion may call for "disciplinary action."

Celler said Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick should consider what steps, if any, are warranted.

Giammalva Plays Powless In Tourney

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Tall John Powless of Murray State had the rough job today of trying to beat Sam Giammalva of Texas in singles play at the National Collegiate (NCAA) Tennis Tournament.

The Giammalva-Powless match was one of eight quarterfinals in the 73rd annual NCAA championships. Giammalva, who played for the United States in last year's Davis Cup challenge round against Australia, is seeded No. 1.

He lost only two games in reaching the quarterfinals. Powless, on the other hand, won matches by scores of 6-4, 6-3 and 6-4, 9-7 in advancing that far. He's seeded No. 8.

Michigan and Tulane were tied for first place in team standings after the quarterfinal doubles with six points apiece. Texas, with five points, and Iowa, with four, stayed in contention. Each singles and doubles victory counts one point.

Then came Houston, with three; Miami, Murray State, Notre Dame and Maryland, two, and Los Angeles State, Stanford, Oklahoma and Yale, one point apiece.

He deplored what he called "midseason bombast" over the proposed move west of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

Celler heads a House antitrust subcommittee, which Thursday closed out the first week of its inquiry into the legal status of professional team sports.

Testimony so far has concentrated on baseball, with Frick the official spokesman for the major leagues.

While Frick was in the witness chair, subcommittee lawyers introduced financial statements reporting that in the last five seasons major clubs netted a total of only $1,878,993.

For the 16 clubs in both leagues, that represented an average of $23,487 a season.

As an example of cost, National League clubs were said to have lost $6,396,565 on their farm systems over the five-year span. Expenses in all cases presumably included front office salaries.

Brooklyn, while winning pennants and one world championship, showed up as the biggest money maker with $1,860,744. Milwaukee netted $1,857,602 and would have topped Brooklyn except for a deficit in 1952, when the Braves' franchise was still in Boston.

The New York Yankees led the American League in profits as it has so often in the standings. The Yanks reported $1,244,339.

There were heavy losers, too. The Pittsburgh Pirates never got out of the red, dropping a reported $1,537,303.

George M. Trautman, president of the minor leagues, was last to undergo questioning before the subcommittee recessed hearings until next week. He was the one who testified that talk of the Dodgers shifting to Los Angeles and the Giants to San Francisco has "definitely done damage" to the Pacific Coast League.

THE LITTLE HUT—Stewart Granger comes close to losing his wife, Ava Gardner, to David Niven when the three find themselves castaways on a desert island in "The Little Hut," a romantic comedy scheduled at the State Theater here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Though Congress is up in the air most of the time, it can boast of only one qualified jet pilot, Col. Barry Goldwater, junior senator, Arizona. He is indeed a man of courage for he is not only one of the first to have navigated the Grand Canyon's Colorado River rapids—but now is pledged to drive Walter Reuther's union out of politics.

Not even Lloyds of London would make book on the senator's changes. But this war-time instructor in aerial gunnery has knocked over some tough targets in his time. And he is one of the few men who can make a rounded phrase along with the best Reuther can devise—as witness the title of Sen. Goldwater's book: "An Odyssey of the Green and Colorado Rivers: The Intimate Journal of Three Boats and Nine People On a Trip Down Two Rivers."

Add to this the fact that Goldwater knows the canyons of Manhattan's tough garment district as well as his native mountains and you have a match for Walter Reuther that should make for quite a battle.

THE MEASURE of the senator's fearlessness is in his recent flight into Detroit to debate Walter Reuther on an Auto Workers' Union broadcast.

Invitation to this verbal, waltzing came from Reuther's TV and radio specialist, ex-OSS man, Guy Nunn, when Goldwater was on reserve duty.

Goldwater found the time but insisted that he pay for half the cost on the theory that the Auto Union members' dues should not go for publicity or propaganda for political leaders.

Nunn said, "Okay. That's $75 for half the fifteen minute radio program."

Shortly a note arrived at Goldwater's office saying that it would be an hour broadcast. But the senator reported he'd have time for only half an hour and the bill was set for $150.

Then came another letter from the Auto Union saying "Let's put the show on the TV waves—your share will be $780."

GOLDWATER dug it up, flew in and found himself debating the Auto Union vice-president, Leonard Woodcock. It was still worth the price to the senator, for he was able to tell the audience over the "United Auto Workers-Goldwater" show that he believed that unions should not use their members' money in politics and that he was for the right-to-work laws which banned the union shop and the dues check-off.

I did not catch the aerial debate so I used another old-fashioned newspaper gadget, the telephone, to ask Sen. Goldwater about his prediction that Walter Reuther's type of politics would be investigated.

gation of the use of dues money for baby sitters, precinct workers, election day and campaign car pools, telephones for squads of callers on voting day, food, gas, oil, printing, and for payrolls of union leaders and business agents.

TO MAKE HIS POINT the senator said that the Senate Lobbying Committee had come across unions in Detroit which had hired $1,500 precinct workers at the rate of $37,000 a day. This came out of union dues money, Goldwater charged.

"This is an improper activity on the labor-management front and the committee will definitely investigate it. True, we're some time from that probe, but we have all of 1958 and beyond that. We'll first go through thousands of cases of corruption, then violence in strikes, then secondary boycotts, and then politics."

Sounds like the start of an exciting feud.

HURSDAY WAS HIS DAY

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—It will be a long, long time before W. B. Beavers of Greensboro forgets June 20, 1957.

Things began happening for him at 8:30 a.m. Thursday when his wife gave birth to a son, their first child.

Thursday afternoon Beavers soothed his nerves by playing a round of golf. He was really "shook up" when his tee shot on the 274-yard par four, 12th hole at the Gillespie Park Golf Club rolled in for a hole-in-one.

ment of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia last week. Their son-in-law, Rev. James R. Stull, was one of the 165 graduates and received the Albert Strickler Memorial Prize which is presented annually to the senior student for the best essay on cancer.

Dr. Stull, with his family, will reside in Springfield for the next year where he will intern at Mercy Hospital after which he will attend the Mission School at Chicago Lutheran Seminary.

The granddaughters, Sydney and Susan Stull, returned home with Rev. and Mrs. Laughner for a few days' visit.

A Hoover sweepster donated by Spatholt's Hardware will be given tonight.

Man With A Denture

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you lonely? Is it difficult for you to make friends? When at a party, do you find it hard to strike up a conversation?

If your answer to these questions is "yes," by all means go to your dentist, have him pull some of your teeth and put in a denture.

When word of this gets around, you will be amazed at the change in your life. Overnight you will find you have acquired a new and more winning personality. People who overlooked you before will look up to you now. After all, now you are a man with a denture. You're a somebody!

A man whose hair falls out usually is rewarded with jibes and jeers and small sympathy. But a man who loses his teeth — for some reason I still can't figure out — is regarded as a kind of hero, a wounded veteran in the battle of life. The world is suddenly on his side.

When I had four front teeth pulled out for Father's Day last week, I feared that when I showed up at the office with my new false choppers I'd be a figure of public ridicule.

Well, sir, it was just the other way. I couldn't have got a more heart-warming reception.

It seems the greatest secret society in the world is the society of people who wear false teeth. Once you join this elect group you can never be lonely again. You leave the lowly steak mob and join the chicken a la king set — a group apart from the gumchewing herd.

The password of this elect society is, "You show me your denture, and I'll show you mine."

In the last several days at least 50 dignified men have come up to me, inspected my new teeth, murmured "Hmmm, not bad," then clawed at their face, pulled out their own dental hardware, and said, "What do you think of mine?"

Several girls, overcome by my new dazzling porcelain smile, have confided that anytime I want to run away from home they will drop their present jobs and beaux and gallop off with me.

Of course, there are minor drawbacks. At first you feel like you have a mouthful of marbles and you develop a lisp. The lisp then gives way to an unexpected whistle.

Take a tip from me. If you want to know real adventure, get yourself a denture. Have your teeth pulled now. My only regret is I didn't have my own pulled out at 21.

The DEW (Distant Early Warning) line is composed of radar bases from Alaska to Baffin Island (just short of the coast of Greenland on the west side). The line follows the 70th Parallel. These electronic signals will give Canada and the United States from four-to-six-hour warning in case of attack over the North Pole.

GIFT of the FUTURE

On that particular occasion — birthday, anniversary, graduation or other important event — why not give the future? In other words, mutual fund shares.

Yes — shares of carefully selected mutual funds represent an ownership interest in a broad cross-section of American industry, under constant supervision by professional investment management. They may thus be expected to participate in the future of our national economy.

If you share our faith in that future, why not let us suggest a mutual fund to suit your objectives? Your inquiry places you under no obligation. Simply stop in, write or use the coupon below.
